PLEASANT HILLS CWA

Our Meeting was held in Henty, and we were thrilled to gain two more members, making a total of 5 new members for the year, so welcome all.

A letter of congratulations was received from Michael McCormack MP, for winning three State Community Service Awards this year. Our Mini Lamington Drives are proving very successful, so we are now adding Muffins as well.

Our Riverina Group Conference will be at Coolamon on 14th October, & we have a quite a few members going, however there are restrictions on numbers due to COVID.

We are raffling a RYOBI One Plus Extensions Kit, valued at nearly $200 which was kindly donated by Bunnings, and we will be drawing it early December at our Christmas Break-up. The tickets are $2.00 each, and all members have raffle books.

There was some discussion on the many elderly people who are isolated from their families due to COVID and the Border Crossings, so it was decided that we would combine with Orana Community Centre and provide some "Care packs" to these people, letting them know they are not forgotten.

Care
Packs

Anyone who would like to contribute lotions, snacks, crosswords, sudoku, puzzles etc, can either leave them at Dales IGA or contact Lyn on 0428690222. A big thank you must go to Dales IGA, Henty for their very generous contribution to these Care Packs. It was very much appreciated. Also, if you know of someone who would benefit from a pack please let us know, as the year has been very difficult for some people. Some Care Packs have been delivered to; Henty Hospital, Myoora Homestead, and the UPA homes.

Nett found a two-toned vest in a shop, which was in CWA Colours, so those of us that could get one in our size did so, and we had the CWA logo & PLEASANT HILLS embroidered on them, so we will look very efficient when we get back to catering etc.

We had a Land Cookery competition with a difference, which caused many laughs. Our Cookery Officer, Margaret had asked that everyone make a special effort to bake the Banana Bread, so she was very surprised when we had twelve entries! One member couldn't buy ripe bananas, so took two slices of bread and a banana, beautifully arranged on a plate!

After all, it was Banana & Bread! We all took pains judging these and the winner was our most junior member, Natalie Hasler, so congratulations Natalie! Second place went to Wendy Crosby and 3rd to Eunice McRae. In the Carrot & Ginger Loaf, 1st was Bev Frohling, 2nd Margaret Hasler & 3rd Lyn Jacobsen. The Plain Butter cake was won by Margaret, 2nd Lyn J. We also had the Special Section for Young Competitors; Butterfly Cakes was won by Louise Hasler and the Jam Drops was won by Natalie Hasler.

Next month we will again have three sections - Wagon Wheel Slice, Peach Blossom Cake and the special one to celebrate 70 years of The Land Newspaper sponsoring the cookery section, the Cherry Blush cake.

Our next meeting will be our Annual Meeting, and it will be in the Henty CWA Rooms at 10.30 am on 21st October – a week later than normal due to Conference being held on the 2nd Wednesday of the month.

We all enjoyed our take-away lunch together in the CWA Rooms and a chat, also taste-testing the delicious lemon butter that Wendy had supplied.

Pleasant Hills Community Hotel

The Hotel is reopening on the 9th October for Fridays only at this stage. Please read attached a copy of the Hotel COVID Safety Plan. We encourage all kitchen staff to do the COVID 19 Awareness for Food Service Training Course. This is a free online course and it does not take very long to complete. The course can be found on the following website:

foodauthority.nsw.gov.au

As you will read on the COVID Safety Plan there will be some changes to the normal and this will include two volunteers working in the bar area, so everyone needs to appreciate how important the volunteers are. Please come forward and offer to go on the roster if you have a current RSA certificate. Also please respect the COVID Safety Rules and be curtesy to all staff. Thank You and welcome back.

Cemetery Update

For the last 6 months I have been working with Eddie Dale to identify and mark the graves of people buried in the Mundawaddery, Munnyabla and Edgehill Cemeteries.

In Mundawaddery, we identified 9 graves that were unmarked; the people were John & Harriet MacFarlane and 3 or their children Thomas, Robert and Harriet. Frederick Ernest Wenzke, Rheinhold Frederick Wenzke, Maria Lydia Knobel, Henry Lazarus, Elizabeth Lazarus and Johann Klemke.

The Cemetery is council owned by the Lockhart Shire Council and there are rules and regulations we had to abide by. One of these was we had to try and identify any descendants and get their permission to erect monuments on the graves.

An advert was placed in the Albury and Wagga papers and on Facebook, which I thought would be a complete waste of time and money. To my surprise the response was overwhelming; I was contacted by at least 2 relatives of each person except the MacFarlane's. One was a gentleman from Portland in Victoria who was related to the Lazarus family, who used to own Golden Valley, John Browns farm now owned by Steven Scott. Also, Lynn Frock contacted me on Peter's behalf as the Wenzkes were his great uncles.

We have made small concrete plinths and ordered the plaques from sign writer in Dubbo; between the 3 cemeteries we need 22 plaques and 30 plinths. By the time we have finished the project the hall will have spent $2200, all of which the shire has agreed to repay us as this is an important community project.

I am not sure when but, as soon as the plaques arrive from Dubbo; we will have a small ceremony at the cemetery to which I will invite the family members and community members who wish to come. Pastor Kees from the Lutheran church will also be in attendance to dedicate the new headstones and graves. I will advise the date as soon as possible, perhaps the last Saturday in October or the first Saturday in November.

Cheers
Peter Sharp.

School News and Reviews

I hope all of our staff, students and families have an enjoyable holiday break and I look forward to seeing everyone's smiling faces in Term 4. Students will return to school for the beginning of Term 4 on Monday 12 October.

Our 2020 school captain Kai Heald with his family and the Year 6 tree.

Book Week 2020 was enjoyed by everyone.

We are currently in the process of undertaking the early stages of our new school planning cycle, commencing 2021. This process involves the rigorous evaluation of our current school plan and a detailed analysis of a range of internal and external data, regarding both the academic and wellbeing needs of our students. Over the past few weeks, we have been undertaking a situational analysis. Conducting a situational analysis allows us to develop a rich and highly contextualised understanding of our school's current situation. As part of this situational analysis, we have been collecting data, collating evidence and engaging with specific research. This will continue to be a thorough process of looking inward, looking outward and looking forward. We look forward to working in partnership with our community to develop a Strategic Improvement Plan (SIP) that is specific to our school's needs, collaborative and meets the needs of our students and community.

A reminder that our school is participating in the Partners in Learning Parent survey. The survey asks parents and carers a number of questions to do with their child/ren's schooling. This feedback is valuable as it enables us to make practical improvements and assists with our new school plan. We greatly appreciate you taking the time to have your say and help us to meet the needs of our students and community. The survey takes around 10 minutes to complete and can be accessed at:

<http://nsw.tellthemfromme.com/phps2020t3>

The survey will close at the end of Week 1, Term 4.

Your feedback will help to:

Build a better school

Improve the family experience

Allocate our resources to better support our students

All responses are anonymous and will be used to further shape and refine our school. We greatly appreciate your time to complete the survey and your open and honest feedback.

Pleasant Hills Pre School

It's springtime and the weather has improved! The children have been spending plenty of time outside.

The first job to be completed was the making of Father's Day toolboxes. Each child was able to have a turn with the drill and screwdriver. It was very exciting for them to use REAL tools. As they were making these toolboxes the children were practicing their hand eye coordination, fine motor skills and muscle strength. They drilled, screwed, glued, and painted.

The stir fries have continued this month as the vegetable patch increased production with the warmer weather. The children have also been very helpful with their weeding skills to maintain the garden.

Mrs Klemke brought some old milk crates to preschool and the children enjoyed stacking them and knocking them over as well as making 'robots' with them.

Introducing Mr and Mrs Vale

Hannah and Searle Vale 20/09/2020

Wedding of Hannah Hogg and Searle Vale

Hannah Hogg and Searle Vale were married on 20th September 2020, at “Truro”, Pleasant Hills. It was a delightful day. Hannah arrived at the ceremony driven by her father, Max Hogg, in his 1928 Chevrolet truck, followed by her three bridesmaids, looking beautiful in navy blue dresses, in a navy blue Navara. Hannah was preceded down the aisle by her two nephews, Harry and Arthur Colvin (Matt and Rebekah’s children) towed in a John Deere wagon. The wedding took place in front of a lovely arch, built by the groom, and beautifully decorated with flowers.

The reception was held in the “Truro” woolshed. As far as we know this was the first time a reception has been held in the 130-year-old woolshed. Hannah and Searle planned the reception together, but it was Searle who largely implemented the plans. The woolshed just looked wonderful and the reception was a rural and family event to be proud of. Hannah is a great lover of flowers and the floral arrangements were truly beautiful.

Behind all the joy there were some struggles. Originally the wedding was to have just over 100 guests but, because of the COVID-19 restrictions, a week before it was to take place there were only a scant 30 guests. None of Searle’s family, none of his groomsmen, and almost none of his friends could come. Then wonderfully the Border bubble was extended to include Pleasant Hills on Thursday morning just before the wedding and amidst much rejoicing the guest list doubled. All Searle’s family except his dear Nanna in South Australia and two out of three of his groomsmen were able to join us.

The weather was a problem, as is often the case with outdoor weddings. The prediction of rain seemed certain to spoil some of the plans. How grateful we were that the 13 ml of rain fell during the night and the afternoon was sunny and warm. What a relief! The farm looked wonderful, so green and lush and provided an outstanding backdrop to it all. This was a precious day to remember and we wish Hannah and Searle a joyful future.

Bev and Max Hogg.

Hannah and close friend Rebecca Sukkas (daughter of Barry and Bruna Terlich).

MORGAN – MAN OF MANY NAMES (Part 2)

A SURPRISE HOLD UP - Dan Morgan Henry Bayliss, the Wagga Wagga police magistrate, was proceeding on his leisurely way to Urana on court business, when Morgan stepped out of the scrub by the side of the road near Bullengong and presented a pistol aimed to his heart.

Bayliss, accustomed to having his meetings with lawbreakers under strict police control, rather than ranging free in the bush, was outraged. He impulsively put spurs to his horse and galloped away, giving Morgan and his mate a hectic chase during which two shots were fired. Eventually superior horseflesh and perhaps riding ability saw Bayliss caught. On being informed he was holding-up a police magistrate, Morgan was surprised, but on examining the papers Bayliss was carrying with him, was convinced, and allowed Bayliss to go free, on the understanding that he would go easy on him if he ever had the misfortune to appear before him.

Thoroughly affronted by Morgan's cheek, Bayliss summoned police reinforcements from Wagga Wagga.

The police party, with Bayliss an enthusiastic participant, located Morgan's deserted campsite and laid out an ambush. During the night, a noise near the camp prompted Bayliss to emerge from hiding to investigate. Morgan's mate had returned. Seeing the figure of Bayliss, he snapped a shot but missed. The magistrate called on the man to stand or be shot, but the challenge was answered by a second shot, more deliberate than the first, which struck the magistrate first in the hand, then in the arm and finally the body. At the same time Morgan appeared and fired another shot. By this time the police had tumbled out of their shelter, firing as they came, and Bayliss had sunk to the ground, bleeding profusely. Morgan and his mate escaped.

Surprisingly, the magistrate not only survived, but recovered sufficiently to be back on the Bench by October the same year.

The outraged NSW government posted a £200 reward for Morgan's capture.

Dan had proved to be an elusive bushranger to catch and was a continuing embarrassment to the NSW Police. The Police were taunted by their Victorian counterparts who claimed that Morgan would be dead within 48 hours if he dared set foot inside Victoria. Morgan heard of this claim and headed south to show his best. He held up travellers, burnt farm buildings and ended his grand tour at Peechelba Station, on the Lover Ovens River. Morgan broke into several homes at Peechelba taking the residents hostage.

However, he was obviously careless in his role as captor and a maid managed to creep over to an adjoining property to give the alarm. By the following morning the house was surrounded and, on the 9th April 1865, – aged 34 yrs), Morgan was shot dead – well before the 48 hour deadline – as he stepped onto the veranda. (Morgan was buried, albeit headless, in Wangaratta cemetery.)

Our Backyard

I KNOW VEGGIES

Now that Spring is truly here I hope you are all out in the veggie patch; except of course, those of you that are immersed in the emerging harvest. Here are a few 'trivial' facts to impress your 'green-thumbbed' friends with.

- White asparagus is achieved by growing plants under thick mulch to exclude light and cutting the stems before they reach the surface.
- Silver beet and Swiss chard are selections of beetroot that fail to develop a bulbous base but are grown for their abundant leaf harvest.
- Commercial choko plantations in Australia yield up to 50,000 kg of fruit per hectare. Commercially, the fruit is used as an apple substitute in pies, frozen desserts, and tinned fruit.
- Home gardeners are sometimes perplexed by the prickly nature of homegrown cucumbers. Harvesting, washing, packing, and handling of commercially grown varieties results in the majority of the prickles being rubbed from shop bought fruit and the smooth appearance of the skin.
- Renowned for its antiseptic qualities, garlic is also said to repel aphids from roses when planted beneath them.
- Onions are traditionally planted on the shortest day of the year and harvested on the longest day.

- Commercial fast-food chains buy their potatoes by weight but sell them by volume. It takes up to 20 per cent fewer potatoes to fill a paper cup with long thin chips than it does with thick fat ones. That means 20 per cent more profit.
- The butternut pumpkin is really a gramma (Cucurbita moschata).
- To grow monster sized pumpkins, only allow one fruit to develop on each vine.
- While silver beet is a good source of iron for vegetarians, it is also high in sodium and people watching their salt intake should limit their consumption of this vegetable.
- Watermelon seeds may be roasted and eaten in the same way as pumpkin seeds.
- The seeds of all types of marrows, pumpkins and cucumbers have a higher nutritional value than the flesh of the fruit.

NATIONAL WOMEN IN FINANCE AWARDS 2020 – DIANNA JACOBSEN

Dianna Jacobsen (daughter of Lyn & Jim), who grew up at “Quandong Park” Pleasant Hills, continues to make her mark on the rural business & finance scene nationally!

Dianna and her team at SHINE at Business work all over Australia (and a little in USA & Canada) in accounting, small business management, financial strategic planning, and farm succession / transition planning. They work with their extensive client base, as well as with a range of organisations such as Cultivate Farms, The Rural Woman, NSW Farmers, NSW State Govt, National Centre for Farmer Health, and a host of others, with much more on the horizon for 2021. In the recent national Women in Finance Awards, having been nominated by clients & colleagues, Dianna was selected as a finalist in the category of Accounting Consultant of the Year, and her team (led by Practice Manager Denise Sawyer – nee Jamnikar - who grew up at Brocklesby) in Wellness Initiative of the Year, for the work they’ve done tirelessly over the past few years with drought-impacted families around the country.

Dianna was selected by the panel to be interviewed live on the night, about the work that SHINE at Business does, and their approach to supporting rural families through drought, bushfire and now pandemic.

Dianna was also selected by the panel of judges as a finalist for the prestigious Excellence Awards at the conclusion of the evening (won by Prospa), which was a great honour and surprise. Whilst not taking home the award in any of the categories, it is no less an amazing accomplishment, and proof that coming from a small, rural place does not prevent anyone from reaching a national stage, albeit a virtual one, as Dianna lives in NE Victoria, so was unable to attend the Sydney Awards ceremony in person. Photos of Dianna & her team on the evening are on the SHINE at Business FB page, showing that a virtual event can be made fun with dressing up, catered meals (which they had to each collect) and champagne all round!
